

Terms of Service

By using this marketplace, you agree to the following terms.

This website operates as a marketplace platform connecting buyers with independent artists (“Sellers”). The platform does not own or create the listed artworks unless otherwise stated.

All payments are processed securely through PayPal. When you purchase an artwork, your payment may be split automatically between the Seller and the platform as a service fee.

Digital goods are delivered electronically. No physical items will be shipped unless explicitly stated.

The platform reserves the right to remove content that violates applicable laws, intellectual property rights, or community standards.

By submitting artwork, Sellers confirm they own all rights to the content and grant the platform permission to list and sell it.
